MEMORANDUM ON THE OBJECTS OF ELECTRONIC DEEDS REGISTRATION SYSTEMS BILL, 2017

1. BACKGROUND

- 1.1 Security of title in South Africa is not explicitly guaranteed by statute, but flows from the unique deeds registration system which is based on specific responsibilities assigned by the Deeds Registries Act, 1937 (Act No. 47 of 1937) (“the Act”), to both the conveyancer (who prepares and lodges deeds and documents) and the Registrar of Deeds whose registration function is calculated to afford security of title.
- 1.2 A computer system known as the Deeds Registration System is in place for the purpose of maintaining the electronic land register. Apart from this electronic process, the preparation and lodgement by the conveyancer, as well as the processing of deeds and documents by the Registrar of Deeds, take place manually. With the advent of the Internet, e-commerce and global computerisation, there has been an increased need for electronic service delivery and a number of new challenges are now facing the Deeds Registries, for example, the inability of the present registration infrastructure and resources, to accommodate the increase in volume in respect of an anticipated 20 million land parcels of the government’s land reform measures; the need to link with the electronic Cadastral Information System, in order to improve efficiency and accuracy of South Africa’s land information management; the demand for decentralisation of services, in order to effect delivery at point of need; the necessity for consolidating and rationalising diversified registration procedures created through legislation by previous political dispensation; and the need to provide registration capability for other forms of land tenure that the government may introduce in future.
- 1.3 To meet the above-mentioned challenges, the Office of the Chief Registrar of Deeds embarked on a project for the implementation of e-commerce principles, in order to facilitate an Electronic Deeds Registration System (“e-DRS”). The e-DRS will provide for, amongst other things, the registration of large volumes of deeds effectively; improved turn-around times for providing registered deeds and documents to clients; provide country wide access to deeds registration services; enhanced accuracy of examination and registration; availability of information to the public; and security features including confidentiality, non-repudiation, integrity and availability.
- 1.4 The Electronic Deeds Registration Systems Bill, 2017 (“the Bill”) has been drafted to provide legislation that is required for the development of an e-DRS.

2. CURRENT POSITION

- 2.1 The Deeds Registries Act, 1937 (Act No. 47 of 1937), and the Sectional Titles Act, 1986 (Act No. 95 of 1986), provides for registration processes to take place manually. However, a need exists for a fully e-DRS to provide, amongst other things, for a fast process for the registration of ownership of land.
- 2.2 The e-DRS aims to provide for the effective registration of large volumes of deeds and to enhance the accuracy of the processes relating to the examination and registration of deeds.

3. OBJECTS OF BILL

The main objectives of the Bill are to—

- (a) facilitate the development of an e-DRS, in order to effect the registration of large volumes of deeds as necessitated by Government’s land reform initiatives; and

- (b) expedite the registration of deeds by decreasing the time required for the deeds registration process.

4. SUMMARY OF BILL

The Bill is divided into seven clauses, as follows:

- (a) Clause 1 provides for definitions.
- (b) Clause 2 provides for the development, establishment and maintenance of the e-DRS by the Chief Registrar of Deeds. The Chief Registrar of Deeds is empowered to issue practice and procedure directives for, amongst others, the functional requirements of the e-DRS; technical specifications for the e-DRS; and the operation of the e-DRS.
- (c) Clause 3 provides for the validity of deeds and documents. A deed or document generated, registered and executed electronically and any other registered or executed deed or document scanned or otherwise incorporated into the e-DRS by electronic means is for all purposes deemed to be the only original and valid record.
- (d) Clause 4 requires any user of the electronic deeds registration authorised by the regulations to be registered in the manner and under the conditions as may be directed by the Chief Registrar of Deeds.
- (e) Clause 5 empowers the Minister to make regulations, on recommendation by the Regulation Boards established in terms of the Deeds Registries Act, relating to, amongst others, the procedures for the electronic lodgement of deeds or documents; procedures for electronic record storing by deeds registries; and the manner of identification of the person who prepares, executes, lodges, registers or stores any deed or document required or permitted to be prepared, executed, lodged, registered or stored in any deeds registry.
- (f) Clause 6 provides for transitional provisions relating to the continuation, by a Registrar of Deeds, of the registration, execution and filing of deeds and documents in a deeds registry until the e-DRS and related provisions or regulations are in place.
- (g) Clause 7 provides for the short title and commencement of the Act.

5. DEPARTMENTS / BODIES CONSULTED

5.1 The following bodies were consulted:

- The Deeds Registries Regulations Board;
- Registrars of Deeds; and
- The Law Society of South Africa.

5.2 The Bill was published for public comments in the Government Gazette and comments were received from the Law Society of South Africa, the Banking Association of South Africa and various conveyancers.

6. FINANCIAL IMPLICATIONS FOR STATE

The project relating to the implementation of the e-DRS has already commenced and expenditure relating thereto is financed by the Deeds Registries Trading Account. The main source of funding this Account is the fees that are charged by the various deeds registries for the registration of deeds and the sale of deeds registration information, as provided for in regulation 84 of the Deeds Registries Act.

7. CONSTITUTIONAL IMPLICATIONS

None.

8. COMMUNICATION IMPLICATIONS

To be undertaken by the Department of Rural Development and Land Reform.

9. PARLIAMENTARY PROCEDURE

9.1. The Department and the State Law Advisers are of the opinion that this Bill must be dealt with in accordance with the procedure established by section 75 of the Constitution, as the Bill contains no provision to which the procedure set out in section 74 or 76 of the Constitution applies.

9.2. In Tongoane and Others v Minister of Agriculture and Land Affairs and others 2010 (6) SA 214 (CC) (“Tongoane judgment”), the Constitutional Court confirmed and endorsed the test for tagging that was formulated by that Court in Ex Parte President of the Republic of South Africa: In re Constitutionality of the Liquor Bill [1999] ZACC 15;2000 (1) SA 732 (CC); 2000 (1) BCLR 1 (CC), where Ngcobo CJ held as follows at paragraph 56:

“the heading of section 76, namely, “Ordinary Bills affecting provinces” provides “a strong textual indication that section 76(3) must be understood as requiring that any Bill whose provisions in substantial measure fall within a functional area listed in Schedule 4, be dealt with under section 76.” (Our underlining).

9.3. As indicated in the Tongoane judgment “any Bill whose provisions in substantial measure” fall within a function listed in Schedule 4 to the Constitution must be classified as a section 76 Bill. The question that needs to be asked therefore is whether the provisions of the Bill, in substantial measure, fall within a functional area listed in Schedule 4 to the Constitution, or whether the Bill provides for the legislation envisaged in section 76(3)(a) to (f) of the Constitution.

9.4. In order to determine this, focus must be on all the provisions of the Bill in order to establish the extent to which they substantially affect the functional areas listed in Schedule 4 and not on whether any of its provisions are incidental to its substance. It is thus necessary to examine all the provisions of the Bill as a whole to determine the extent to which they substantially affect any of the matters listed in Schedule 4.

9.5. What must be stressed is that the Tongoane judgment went on to state that, “. . . the procedure envisaged in section 75 of the Constitution remains relevant to all Bills that do not, in substantial measure, affect the provinces”. Therefore, a Bill which does not deal with a functional area listed in Schedule 4 or Schedule 5 to the Constitution must be considered in accordance with the procedure set out in section 75 of the Constitution.

9.6. The State Law Advisers have carefully considered the Bill and measured it against the matters listed in schedule 4 or 5 to the Constitution. As indicated above, the Bill deals with e-DRS. In this regard, the Bill provides for the development, establishment and maintenance of the e-DRS, and requires the Chief Registrar of Deeds to develop, establish and maintain the e-DRS for the preparation, lodgment, registration, execution and storing of deeds and documents. It is clear that the matters covered in the Bill are not listed in either schedule 4 or 5 to the Constitution.

- 9.7 The State Law Advisers are of the opinion that it is not necessary to refer this Bill to the National House of Traditional Leaders in terms of section 18(1)(a) of the Traditional Leadership and Governance Framework Act, 2003 (Act 41 of 2003), since it does not contain provisions pertaining to customary law or customs of traditional communities.
