BILL

To amend the Recognition of Customary Marriages Act, 1998 so as further regulate the proprietary consequences of customary marriages entered into before the commencement of the principal Act; and to provide for matters connected therewith.

PARLIAMENT of the Republic of South Africa enacts as follows:—

Amendment of section 7 of Act 120 of 1998

1. Section 7 of the Recognition of Customary Marriages Act, 1998 is hereby amended by the substitution for subsection (1) of the following subsection:

"(1) (a) The proprietary consequences of a customary marriage, whether polygamous, or not, entered into before the commencement of this Act [continue to be governed by customary law.] are that the spouses in such a marriage have joint and equal—

- (i) ownership and other rights; and
- (ii) rights of management and control, over marital property.

(b) The rights contemplated in paragraph (a), must be exercised—

- (i) in respect of all house property, by the husband and wife of the house concerned, jointly and in the best interests of the family unit constituted by the house concerned; and
- (ii) in respect of all family property, by the husband and all the wives, jointly and in the best interests of the whole family constituted by the various houses.

(c) Each spouse retains exclusive rights over his or her personal property.

(d) For purposes of this subsection the terms “marital property”, “house property”, “family property” and “personal property” have the meaning ascribed to them in customary law.

Transitional provisions

2. (1) The provisions of section 1 of this Act do not invalidate—
- (a) the winding up of a deceased estate that was finalised; or
 - (b) the transfer of marital property that was effected,
- before the commencement of this Act.

(2) The provisions of subsection (1) do not apply to the transfer of marital property where, at the time of such transfer, the person to whom the marital property was to be transferred, was aware that the marital property in question was subject to a legal challenge.”.

Short title

3. This Act shall be called the Recognition of Customary Marriages Amendment Act, 2018.
