

Consumer Behaviour

Edition:41Publication date:20Author/Editors:80eISBN:92Format:elNumber of Pages:44Retail price:80Website Link:10

4th Edition 2017 Roberts-Lombard, M 9781485125624 eBook 448 R638.00 (incl. VAT) juta.co.za/pdf/24814/

About this Publication:

Consumer Behaviour 4e focuses on consumer needs, buying behaviour, and the art of customer satisfaction. It provides invaluable insight into the psychology behind consumer thinking, emotions, experiences and reasoning, as well as how choices between products/services, suppliers and product brands are made. A unique South perspective on consumer information-processing, decision-making and buying patterns is emphasised through the lens of culture, family, media and values. This perspective will inform academics in the marketing field as well as industry practitioners on how customised marketing strategies can be developed to effectively reach each consumer. The significant impact of the growth of the millennial market segment, the use of digital technology, and access to shared experiences through social media and other online channels is also explored.

- This fourth edition of Consumer Behaviour covers traditional and contemporary issues such as:
- Consumer decision-making and influencing factors
- Why customers behave the way they do
- Market segmentation and how to target a specific market
- Consumer information-processing
- Brand loyalty and how to retain customers
- Customer relationship marketing
- Cross-cultural influences on consumer behaviour
- E-commerce and its effect on consumer behaviour.

Contents Include:

- Chapter 1: Introduction to customer behaviour
- Chapter 2: Creating market value for consumers
- Chapter 3: Market characteristics
- Chapter 4: Culture and subculture
- Chapter 5: Reference groups and social class
- Chapter 6: Personal characteristics
- Chapter 7: Customer perception and learning.
- Chapter 8: Customer motivation
- Chapter 9: Customer attitudes
- Chapter 10: Personality and self-concept
- Chapter 11: Market segmentation
- Chapter 12: The consumer decision-making process
- Chapter 13: Household decision making
- Chapter 14: Organisational buying behaviour
- Chapter 15: Consumer loyalty
- Chapter 16: Building relationships with customers
- Chapter 17: The online world and consumer behaviour

Of Interest and Benefit to:

Consumer Behaviour has been written to meet the specific needs of southern African universities and private colleges. The subject is an essential component of Marketing and Industrial Psychology courses. It links consumer behaviour principles and the elements of marketing strategy, thereby enabling undergraduate students, entrepreneurs and business and marketing managers to factor in consumer behaviour as a crucial determinant of a successful marketing programme.

This fourth edition of Consumer Behaviour covers traditional and contemporary issues such as:

- Consumer decision-making and influencing factors
- Why customers behave the way they do
- Market segmentation and how to target a specific market
- Consumer information-processing
- Brand loyalty and how to retain customers
- Customer relationship marketing
- Cross-cultural influences on consumer behaviour
- E-commerce and its effect on consumer behaviour.